PREFACE.

OF the many song books that are now in the market, the author humbly trusts that Celestial Showers, No. 1, will be an auxiliary in helping many souls on to the land of Beulah. There is presented to you in this work a new book of songs, which are full of joy and gladness, loyalty and fidelity. It is believed that they will enliven new hopes in those who are followers of the Lord Jesus, and give fresh courage to those who are not yet saved. To this end these songs are consecrated: That we may praise the Lord by singing.

Hints to Church Choirs.

IN the following pages I want to make a few suggestions that will probably be of some benefit to church choirs generally. Having had some experience along this line I thought it would not be out of place in this book to offer my fellow-laborers a part of my own plan in choir singing, which are to be taken not as rules laid down by me, but simply as hints.

To begin on this line I want to state, first, that choir singing, during a regular church service, is one of the questionable features of the service. Every one who goes to meeting and hears the choir sing, has something to say about it. One says, "I don't like to hear a choir sing during service; its all style and there's no real good in it."

Another says, "The choir didn't sing well to-day because Miss A. was absent. I think if she were to quit singing the choir would fall through."

Another says, "I don't think the choir ought to select such songs as no one knows; they ought to sing something that everybody can sing."

Possibly this person strikes the key-note when he says that the choir ought to sing something that everybody can sing. So, dear choir member, you see that you are in a position to be spoken of by the entire congregation. Then it becomes your duty to find a way to carry out this part of the church work so as to do the most good and reach the best results.

Second, the choir in itself often makes a serious blunder in the preparation of "Sunday song," by losing too much time in practicing anthems, chants and andantes. I think such music ought seldom be used during service. Don't understand me to say that it should not be used at all. I don't mean that, but I simply mean that more time should be given to the preparation of songs that your congregation can help to sing, rather than too many anthems; for, indeed, in most cases, when you sing an anthem, the congregation can but sit and listen to you, and by so doing, they are obliged to miss that part of the services that is everybody's privilege. Keep in mind that your audience is not a crowd of spectators at an opera. You are simply leaders in the song service and they are followers, all equal, but in different line of battle.

Third, choirs often make the mistake of "throwing off." That is, if a certain song that the majority of the members present want sung, is not sung, they often leave the burden of singing on the chorister and organist. It is the duty of every member of the choir to sing whatever piece is selected. Your organist knows better what to sing than you, so when a piece is tuned open your book to the number and "sing with the spirit and with the understanding."

Fourth, I speak about how to prepare songs for service. It is almost impossible for you to sing without first preparing to do so. You cannot impress the songs on the mind of your congregation unless you are prepared to do so. Your congregation cannot learn a song correctly from you unless you know how to sing it correctly, and you cannot sing correctly unless you meet at practice meeting.

"Oh," says one, "I can read music and sing it at sight."

This you may do, but your "sight singing" never reaches the best results. You should meet for practice not less than once a week, and when you go submit to your leaders, for they know best. I have met choirs very often, and find that in most cases there are some members of the choir who can read music and sing well, but they are continually trying to show the organist how to attend to his business, and discussing worthless technicalities. Remember that the organist was selected to fill the position, and whenever he becomes deficient then possibly you will be selected in his stead.

Last, it is any church-member's privilege to sing in a church choir, especially if he is a member of that church. I have met many choirs that have tried to debar certain members of the church from singing. No one will want to ascend the choir stand who feels that he or she would be out of place. There are some young single people who refuse to sing in the choir with married people. My experience along this line is, that people who make the best choir members, are those who are most interested, whether they are married or single. The individual who lets everything attract his attention, and thus absents his attention from the choir, does not make a good member, and the work often becomes burdensome to such a one.

In conclusion let me advise you to do well your part in the choir. Remember you can work to advantage without making yourself conspicuous. Avoid everything that will attract attention. Remember that squalling is noise and not music. Music is a combination of harmonious sounds. In the sweet bye-and-bye we will sing around the throne of God, praising Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

Yours for the Master,

WILLIAM ROSBOROUGH.

The following pertinent paragraph has been added to the above by Rev. I. Toliver:

Saints and angels unite in singing praises unto God, but God has never invited Satan to join in leading the praise of his temple. He can not afford to stoop lower than his church nor rise higher than heaven for praise. Therefore those who do not belong to the church in heaven nor earth, should not belong to the church choir.

Yours in Jesus,

I. TOLIVER.

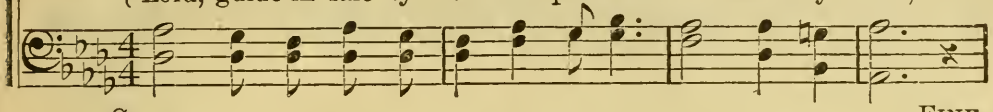
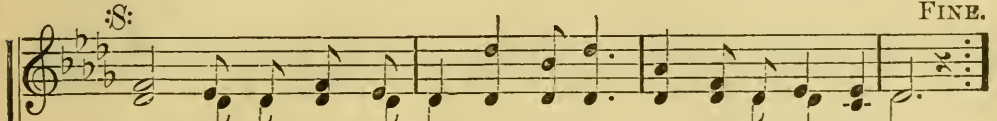
1. Be - yond the cit - y's gold- en por-tals, In heav'n so fair,
   Robed in the robes of pur - est whiteness, Hap - py are they;
2. They left us at the tur - bid riv - er, Whis-pered "fare-well,"
   Now heav'n to us is grow- ing dear- er, Our friends are there;
3. Our faith goes up on ho - ly pin-ions To yon fair land,
   And soon we'll hope a gain to meet them On that bright shore,
4. Our hearts go out in ar- dent long-ing To reach the home
   Lord, guide in safe- ty to the por- tals Our wea - ry feet,



:S: Fine.



Our friends are with the pure im- mortals, Shar-ing the glo - ry rare;
Shin' - ing in heav-ens glorious brightness, Blest and redeemed for aye.
Van - ished from hu- man vis - ion ev - er, With the redeemed to dwell;
Thy gates of gold are draw-ing near-er, Cit - y so bright and fair!
Where in the Sav-ior's broad do-min-ions Our loved im-mor-tals stand;
And in re-newed af-fec-tion greet them To leave them nev-er-more.
Whith - er our dear-est friends are thronging The plains of light to roam;
And bring us to the land im-mor-tal, Our loved and lost to greet.

No. 17. We Gather with Gladness. (Tune above.)

1 With gladness here again we gather,
In Jesus' name,
And now in songs of praise together,
Grateful, His love proclaim;
How happy is the bond of union
Making us one! [ion
How comforting the sweet commun-
In God's beloved Son!

Cho.—These are hours of wondrous blessing
Spent at Jesus' feet;
Oh, these are times of rare refreshing
Crowning the mercy-seat!

2 Oh, these are blest and hallowed moments
Spent at His feet!
Oh, these are hours of rare refreshing
Crowning the mercy-seat!
Our fellowship is pure and holy,
Like that above;
God sends upon His children lowly
Streams of His quickening love.

3 We need the presence of the Savior
Would we be blest;
We plead the tokens of His favor;
His love is sweetest, best;
Our hearts are thrilled with peace and gladness,
Jesus is near;
His presence scatters doubt and sadness,
Fills us with joy and cheer.

PSALM XCV.

(School standing.)

All read.

1. Oh, come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation.

2. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto Him with psalms.

3. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

4. In His hand are the deep places of the earth; and the strength of the hills is His also.

5. The sea is His, and He made it; and His hands formed the dry land.

6. Oh, come, let us worship, and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord, our maker.

7. For He is our God; and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand. To-day if you will hear His voice,

8. Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness,

9. When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.

Responsive Exercise.

JESUS WEEPS AND LOVES YOU STILL.

SUPT. Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

SCHOOL. The Jews there, which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

SUPT. Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

SCHOOL. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled,

(Sing first verse.)

SUPT. And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

SCHOOL. Jesus wept. Then said the Jews, Behold, how he loved him!

I feel such a burden of care,
And if to the Master I tell it,
That burden He'll help me to bear:
If He lay but His hand on the children,
My heart will be lighter, I know,
For a blessing forever and ever
Will follow them each as they go."

4 So, over the highlands of Judah,
She journeyed 'mid vineyards all green,
With Esther asleep on her bosom,
And Rachel her brothers between;
Where the people attend on His teaching,
And 'waited His touch or His word,
Through the row of proud Pharisees hast'ning,
She pressed to the feet of the Lord.

5 Said Peter "Now, why shouldst thou trouble
The Master with children like these?
Thou knowest, from morn until ev'ning,
He is teaching, and healing disease."
Said Jesus "Forbid not the children,
Permit them to come unto me!"
In His arms, then, He took little Esther,
And Rachel He set on His knee.

6. The care-stricken heart of the mother,
Was lifted all sorrow above;
His hands kindly laid on the children,
He blessed them with holiest love,
And said of the babe on His bosom
"Of such is the kingdom of Heav'n;"
Then strength for all duty and trial,
That hour to her spirit was giv'n.

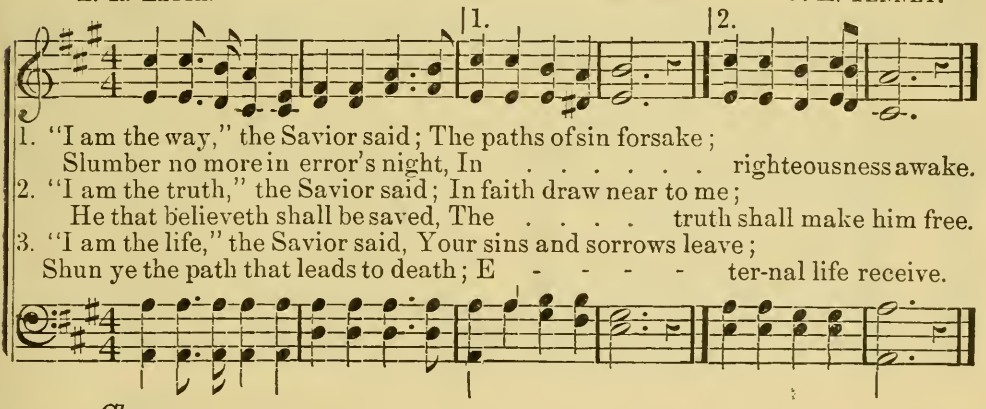
E. R. Latta. J. H. Tenney.



1. "I am the way," the Savior said; The paths of sin forsake;
   Slumber no more in error's night, In . . . . . righteousness awake.
2. "I am the truth," the Savior said; In faith draw near to me;
   He that believeth shall be saved, The . . . . truth shall make him free.
3. "I am the life," the Savior said, Your sins and sorrows leave;
   Shun ye the path that leads to death; E - - - - - ter-nal life receive.

Chorus.

Draw near, O Christ, to me,
Nearer to me,
Let all Thy wealth of love
Fall upon me;
Touch every secret sin,
Wash me, and make me clean,
Let nothing stand between
My heart and Thee.

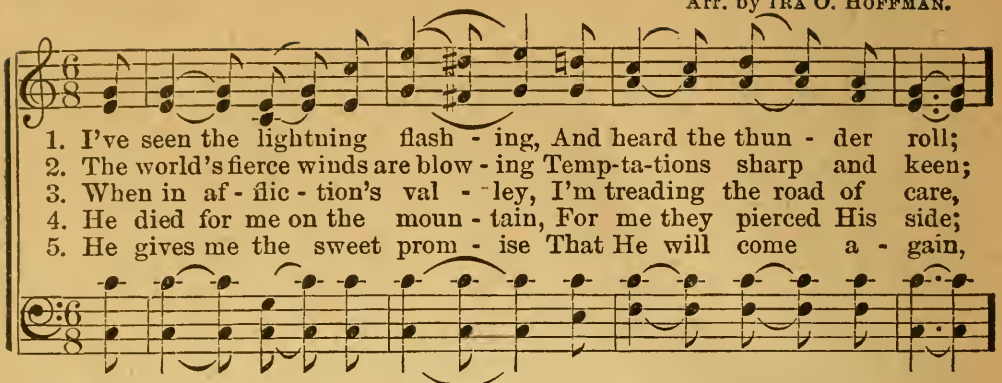
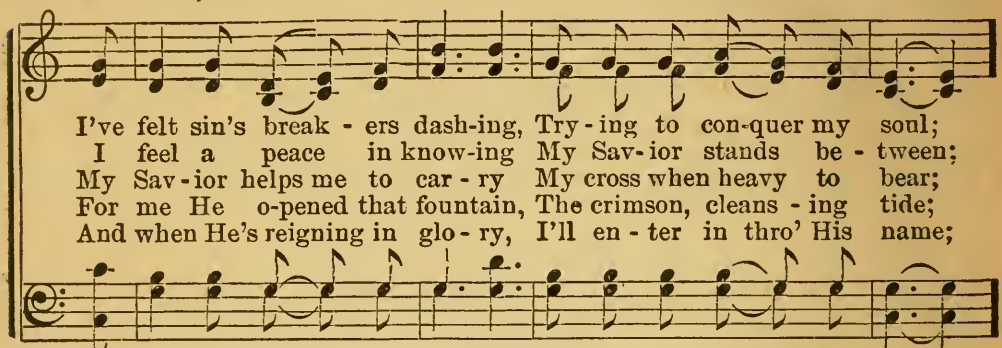
Arr. by Ira O. Hoffman.



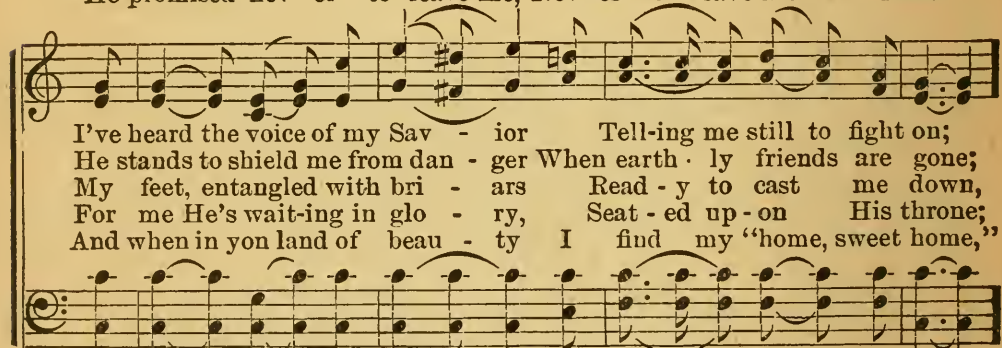
1. I've seen the lightning flash - ing, And heard the thun - der roll;
2. The world's fierce winds are blow - ing Temp-ta-tions sharp and keen;
3. When in af - flic - tion's val - ley, I'm treading the road of care,
4. He died for me on the moun - tain, For me they pierced His side;
5. He gives me the sweet prom - ise That He will come a - gain,

Chorus.—No, nev-er a - lone,.... No, nev - er a - lone;



I've felt sin's break - ers dash-ing, Try - ing to con-quer my soul;
I feel a peace in know-ing My Sav-ior stands be - tween;
My Sav - ior helps me to car - ry My cross when heavy to bear;
For me He o-pened that fountain, The crimson, cleans - ing tide;
And when He's reigning in glo - ry, I'll en - ter in thro' His name;

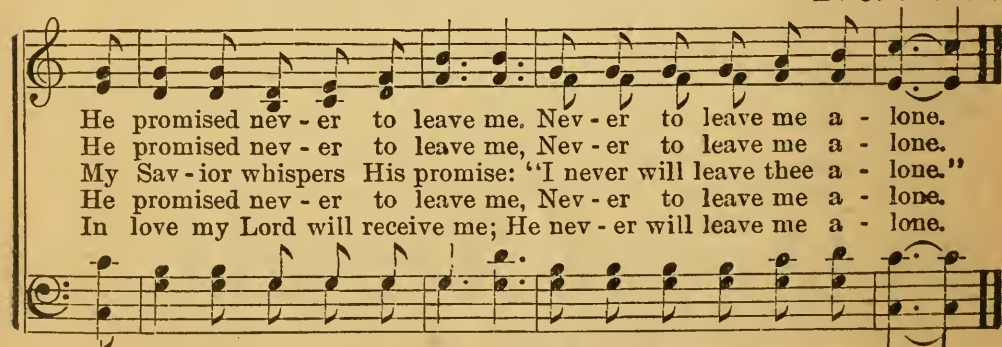
He promised nev - er to leave me, Nev - er to leave me a - lone.



I've heard the voice of my Sav - ior Tell-ing me still to fight on;
He stands to shield me from dan - ger When earth - ly friends are gone;
My feet, entangled with bri - ars Read - y to cast me down,
For me He's wait-ing in glo - ry, Seat - ed up - on His throne;
And when in yon land of beau - ty I find my "home, sweet home,"

No, nev-er a - lone,.... No,..... nev - er a - lone;

D. C. Chorus.



He promised nev - er to leave me. Nev - er to leave me a - lone.
He promised nev - er to leave me, Nev - er to leave me a - lone.
My Sav - ior whispers His promise: "I never will leave thee a - lone."
He promised nev - er to leave me, Nev - er to leave me a - lone.
In love my Lord will receive me; He nev - er will leave me a - lone.

He promised nev - er to leave me, Nev - er to leave me a - lone.
